C.A.C.A.'s DC Team: "Ready to Go"

In over a decade of annual Capitol Hill visits, this Team from the Chinese American Citizens Alliance may experience the most exciting program ever, thanks to the stellar planning of National Pres. Edmond Gor and NVP Ted Gong. Before visits to Congressional officials' offices are even scheduled, the proposed week-long schedule is already filled with must-attend segments.

The week will begin with a two-day symposium hosted by 1882 Project and the Smithsonian Institution. This series was initiated to serve as the national educational follow-on to the passage of "Expression of Regret" Congressional Resolutions by Rep. Judy Chu. The Steering Committee, co-led by C.A.C.A., discovered at that time that the American public, including the youngest Chinese Americans, was losing understanding of the tragic impact of Exclusion, and its negative statement on race attitudes in America, never quite healed. The symposium series aims at defining the topics and modern methods to convey this education to all of America, in the widest, most efficient way possible. One such focus to be explored will be cultural and historical tourism, as a new means of preserving Chinese American historical sites and history. [DC cont. p.2]

2016 L.A. Lodge Leadership Internship Program

The L.A. Lodge Leadership Internship Program is a paid, eight-week projects-based program sponsored by C.A.C.A. Los Angeles by a grant from L.A. C.A.C.A. Community Action. It will begin June 13 and end on August 5, 2016. Stipend will be $800.00 (U.S.) per intern made possible through a generous grant from C.A.C.A. Los Angeles Community Action. The interns, called "Summer Associates," will engage hands-on in major projects that further Purposes and Objectives of the nation's oldest civil rights and social advocacy organization for American citizens of Chinese ancestry:

- pursuing the highest ethics, morals, and values,
- practicing and defending American citizenship and American patriotism,
- bettering the economic and political opportunities in our communities,
- preserving historical and cultural traditions, and
- assuring the education of our youth and community.

Interns will gain applicable experience and leadership for future involvement with C.A.C.A. or other nonprofit community organizations. Summer Associates will participate in various projects for the Chapter, including the C.A.C.A. Los Angeles Fundraiser Dinner, July 10, 2016. Applications and support materials must be submitted by Wednesday, May 11, 2016, 11:59pm PST. Finalists will be notified for interviews no later than Wednesday, May 18. Captain Wells' Book on a Shipwreck involving Early Chinese Emigrants [by Charles Mau]

GSGV Lodge co-sponsored with Bruggemeyer Library of Monterey Park a book presentation on April 3 by Captain Robert Wells who had a distinguished 30-year career service with the US Navy. Entitled "Voices from the Bottom of the South China Sea", the book tells the story of the sinking of a US steamship off the coast of southern China in 1874 where almost 400 Chinese passengers returning home from America perished. It describes the historical context of a maritime tragedy, intertwined with early Chinese migrant workers, the steamship and its entire boat crew, and the burgeoning trans-Pacific trade with China in those days. Well researched, the book provides a valuable record on an aspect of pre-exclusion Chinese American history that was often overlooked.

The book event was well attended by over 50, with members of the GSGV and Los Angeles Lodges, who expressed interest and appreciation by asking many questions. Mayor Peter Chan, a Brother, thanked the author for writing this book that touches on the life of early Chinese emigrants to America. Sister Lisa Yang extended the initial invitation to the author, and VP Charles Mau chaired arrangements.

Lifetime Memberships Voted at GSGV Lodge

In the GSGV Lodge meeting on April 11, members voted to start offering lifetime memberships with a one-time payment of $500 of membership dues. There is a second tier of 10-year membership with a one-time payment of $250. These memberships are created for the convenience of those Lodge members who enjoy being a loyal participant in the organization but without the need to be reminded of membership fee payment every year. Frontloading membership fees in this fashion may facilitate the Lodge to better utilize its resources at hand. Lodge by-laws will be modified to reflect this change.

"Comfort Women" Issue back in the News [C. Mau]

A recent comment by a former Glendale mayor at a Council Meeting gave the false impression that the "comfort women" issue was permanently settled with the joint announcement between the Republic of Korea and the Japanese government late last year. This prompted an alarm amongst the Korean American community who viewed the agreement as sham, without proper consultation with the victims and done under enormous international pressures. At the Glendale City Council on April 12, Korean American Forum of California refuted the validity of the joint agreement between ROK and Japan. On behalf of GSGV Lodge and with Brother David Yuen's help, VP Charles Mau made a statement at the Council in support of the Korean community in pursuing a truly sincere apology and appropriate compensation from Japan for the surviving "comfort women", including not only Korean but all other Asian nationalities who suffered a similar fate. He further called into question the sincerity of Prime Minister Abe's apology, as the Japanese government kept backtracking on its commitment ever since the joint announcement. In response, the Glendale City Council agreed to not let go the issue until a real final settlement agreeable to all is reached.

C.A.C.A. Foundation Scholarships

The Chinese American Citizens Alliance Foundation of Los Angeles Lodge is please to announce that scholarship applications for 2016 will be accepted starting May 1, 2016. Up to eleven $1000 scholarships will be awarded to university students of Chinese descent. Application forms may be downloaded, beginning May 1 from the Foundation website at www.cacafoundation.org.

Students of Chinese descent studying at a recognized institution of college or university in California are welcome to apply. Students must be presently a sophomore and will be a junior in the fall, 2016. The scholarships are awarded primarily based on scholastic achievements. Additional consideration is given to community involvement and extracurricular activities. Applications must be postmarked on or before June 30, 2016. Also, applicants must be available for an in-person interview in Los Angeles, tentatively scheduled on July 30, 2016. Questions concerning the application process may be directed to cacafoundation@gmail.com.

A related opportunity for Team Members will be a visit to the National Archives to see the outstanding, relatively new exhibit, "Records of Rights." If any Member has any question of what the Alliance mission is, and why it is needed to this day, a necessary visit must be made if ever in DC. The exhibit examines the impacts, bad and good, in America of the Constitution, particularly the Bill of Rights, traced from its intellectual origins in an authentic earliest copy of the Magna Carta. Archives staffers will brief on the holdings and their usage.

Congressional visits to local Congresspersons are always the centerpiece. This year's topics will focus on birthright citizenship in immigration, on veterans' issues, and historic and cultural preservation. The latter is becoming an important thrust to Alliance interests looking into the future as the history of the Chinese in the United States becomes longer, with the earliest periods becoming increasingly fuzzy to all. The biggest action of interest locally is the introduction of the bill to create the Rim of the Valley by Rep. Adam Schiff. The prospect is high that Los Angeles Chinatown will be included in the area to be defined, and now Rep. Ted Lieu is proposing the adding of beach coastal areas.

DC Team leaders have also arranged access to the annual White House briefings for AAPIs, held later in a week. Pres. Gor has arranged a first ever C.A.C.A. White House tour for the entire Team of over 24 participants, representing a majority of the Lodges. Los Angeles is sending Sis. and NE Susan Dickson as well as PNP (Bro.) Munson Kwok and NRE and Historian (Sis.) Suellen Cheng, mainly to participate in the symposium. GSGV is sending its VP and Special Assistant (Bro.) Charles Mau.

A highlight event is always the annual APACIS fundraising gala, in which C.A.C.A. has annually participated for several years. This year's version promises to be a stellar occasion as Los Angeles Chinatown's own Congressperson, Xavier Becerra, will be honored for his lifetime achievement in leadership and inter-ethnic relations, particularly with the Asian Pacific American community. Now it has been announced that the Keynote Speaker will be Pres. Barack Obama, a rare occurrence indeed. It is further rumored that 2016 Presidential candidates may appear.

Altogether for those who signed up and were accepted, this version of the DC Team experience may be more memorable and productive than most.

SF's Chinese Hospital Cuts Ribbon

On April 16, San Francisco Chinatown's Chinese Hospital held open house and cut the ribbon to enter the brand new facility. The newly completed building, located on the site of the historic 1924 building, will provide, relative to the old plant, more modernized medical treatment with bed capacity increased at least 50% for a growing Chinatown. Present were representatives of the Chinese American Citizens Alliance from SF Lodge. Both the National ($5,000) and SF Lodges were major donors; SF Lodge donated $55,000. Further, the Alliance is one of the 15 founding organizations dating back to the 1923-24 era. Sitting as the Alliance's Board of Trustees Member is NE Faye Woo Lee. Says Woo, "I am very proud that C.A.C.A. was one of the 15 community organizations that worked together...over 100 years ago, when our community was denied health care...due to racial discrimination."

One of the Hospital's senior leaders, a retired head of the Health Plan, noted, "The new hospital is truly state of the art and the architects and designers did a real good job!" The only visible indication of an historic site is a floor-to-roof image imprint of several historical photos. Patients will not enter the facility until mid-summer, after the official certification by the hospital inspector.

Yale Street Redux

An improved plan for rebuilding Yale Street between Alpine and College Sts. was unveiled by Los Angeles City designers and engineers at a community workshop hosted by CD1 Councilman Cedillo's office, on March 14. The problem was due to the increasing endangerment of young Castelar students in their morning drop-offs and afternoon pick-ups. Numerous examples of vehicles stopping in the middle of the street, jay walking, and vehicle U-turns on Yale after drop-offs could be seen, as verified by George Yu's BID patrols. In the afternoon, a similar problem at Confucius School was occurring. The prior plan removed significant number of parking spaces, provided a new traffic bottleneck, and added potential new public safety factors in the landscaping design. Sharon Lowe of CD1 reported that it was the results of 100's of letters and emails voicing safety concerns, back in 2010-11.

The upgraded plan preserves all 50 parking spaces, even possibly adding one or two, creates a curbside valet zone for dropoffs and reduces the density and heights of centerline landscaping to improve street visibility for those still insistent on opposite curb drop-offs of students. Only five trees with slimmer trunks will be planted now on the centerline. The center island strip is still maintained to eliminate U-turns. CCBA VP Jeannie Wong and BID ED George Yu pronounced the changes “satisfactory.”

NE and former Castelar teacher Susan Dickson assisted new Principal Shum on a committee to craft the proposed upgrade plan to CD 1 for the City Engineers to ponder and apply. If on schedule, construction begins June 13 and is completed by August 1.

Employees Win Against Chinese Daily News

The issues of abuse and violations of federal and state labor laws, short changes on wages, and so on traced back to well before the turn of the Century (2000). An attempt to organize a union in 2001 was blocked by News. With no recourse and a deaf corporation, an original 18 employees and ex-employees filed a class action suit in 2004. The class was to balloon to over 200 in both LA and SF. A judge ruled in favor of employees in 2004, followed by a jury trial and years of appeals. Finally News has settled for $7.8 million. Of the original 18, only 3 stuck it out. Among them was Lynne Wang, Chinatown’s best beat reporter ever, who was to lose her job after a demotion, resultant of the battle. She is now a free lance reporter and historian. She had gotten L.A. Lodge to support the cause and a Resolution of support was passed at the 2003 Pasadena convention, Bro. Winston Wu recalls. Later, she joined C.A.C.A. for several years. Wang said she wanted other Asian immigrant workers to have access to aid and advice when they had to pursue similar lawsuits so $100,000 was allocated to UCLA, Loyola Law School and USC Gould School of Law. Another victory to community and congratulations to (Sis.) Lynne Wang. [Partially excerpted from L.A. Times, C2, 03/18/2016 and Shan Li.]

Castelar Community Fends Off Charter

Parent Martin Wong (he the founder and publisher of Giant Robot) came to the L.A. Lodge April meeting and presented a crisis issue of a nationwide charter school trying to move into three vacant classrooms at historic Castelar School, Chinatown’s own elementary school. Enrollment was slightly down and teaching vacancies unfilled, so Metro Charter pounced. Parents and staff protested because the rooms were used for enriching activities for the students, such as arts, after hours. The concerned group galvanized the Chinatown community, including the Alliance, which responded immediately with its protest letter to LAUSD, joining scores of organizations and hundreds of letters and emails. What seemed a heavy-handed intrusion at this time was not welcomed. A protest march was even conducted and testimony given at a hearing.

In sum, Wong reports, “Metro Charter has publicly stated to its parents that they will not be co-locating at Castelar Elementary in the 2016-2017 school year...Our principal was given permission by his higher-ups to inform Castelar families that Metro Charter School would not be coming. We believe that the combined efforts of the community, family, and friends of Castelar have staved off the possible co-location by Metro Charter School and sincerely thank everyone for their support. Please spread the word that Chinatown's excellent and historic neighborhood school is too important to the kids and the community to be sliced up and compromised.”

He further urges, “Please encourage family and friends who live or work in the area to consider enrolling their kids at Castelar and check out the Mandarin Dual Language program as well. Please stay in touch through our WeHeartCastelar group page on Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/groups/weheartcastelar/>.” A community victory-----for now.

Sherry Chen Fired

We have learned that Sherry Chen, hydrologist with the National Weather Service under the Department of Commerce, has been fired by the Department of Commerce as of the first week in April, 2016. Chen had been falsely suspected of spying for China, which was dismissed before formal charges were filed, then suspended from her job in her unit, until this final event. It is likely she did violate some Department security rules and procedures. Members of Congress and national community organizations had interceded to possibly prevent her official arrest, but apparently could not save her position. National groups may do a Relief Fund during her unemployment.

Driver Arrested in Hong Hit and Run Fatality

Monterey Park police have now apprehended Cecelia DeToledo as the hit and run minivan driver who killed Kwai-Ling Hong on a MP street in January. DeToledo is a mother and apparently a novice driver. After hitting Hong she drove on unawares, dragging him to her house in Alhambra. Finally alerted by an onlooker, she called 911. Son George Hong said in the L.A. Times, April 22, “We’re happy that finally happened, but it’s just one step.” The community including Los Angeles Lodge had been mobilized to protest before City Council on the slowness of the MPPD in making a determination and arrest, some two months ago.

Tanaka Convicted

Paul Tanaka, once Mayor of Gardena, a candidate for LA county sheriff, and prominent Japanese American community leader (and a member of L.A. Lodge), has been convicted recently in Federal Court of obstruction of justice and conspiracy in the case of the concealment of an inmate working for the FBI on possible violations in the Sheriff’s Department. Sentencing in mid-May.
